

Pet Policy

We love pets! However, to uphold the highest standards of cleanliness and comfort for all guests, our homes generally do not allow animals. If you're traveling with a pet or a trained service animal, please contact Amasé before booking. We review each request individually and will do our best to accommodate when possible.

Service Animal Addendum

Amasé complies with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) with respect to service and assistance animals (including service animals and, in housing, emotional support animals) ("Service Animals"). Service Animals are not pets and are allowed as reasonable accommodations. Any pet rules under these Terms and Conditions (pet rent, pet deposits, breed/weight limits, etc.) do not apply to Service Animals. We do not retaliate against anyone for requesting or using a Service Animal. We keep disability-related information confidential and share it only as needed to evaluate the request or as required by law.

A Service Animal generally means a dog individually trained to do work or perform tasks for a person with a disability. Dogs whose sole function is comfort or emotional support are generally not Service Animals.

Amasé does not charge pet rent, pet deposits, surcharges, or processing fees for Service Animals. However, renters remain responsible for actual damage caused by their Service Animals.

With respect to Service Animals accompanying renters during rentals, renters shall:

1. Keep the animal under control, housebroken, and promptly clean up animal waste in all areas.
2. Provide routine care (feeding, grooming, flea control) and ensure that the Service Animal does not pose a direct threat or cause substantial property damage.
3. Follow local public health requirements (e.g., dog licensing and vaccinations) that apply to all Service Animals.
